NUYS SET WELCOME. NOMINATION

MENT OF YEAR-OLD
EXPECTED TO BE
PLACID

CEPTS "INVITATION"

Declines to Make Formal ent On Readmittance
Into Fold

APOLIS, Ind., July 6.— Indiana's Democratic leaders will welcome Senator Van Nuys back into the party after a year of internal dissension. Van Nuys was the first ballot to be placed on the first ballot at the state convention Tuesday.
He ended the 1938 campaign with a loss.

The senator accepted with alacrity V. M. Clifford Townsend's "invitation" for him to abandon his progressive independent candidacy and renew his name to the state convention with the assurance that he would be endorsed by the statehouse machine. This was equivalent to dropping his renomination, which the statehouse learned had been deterred in advance.

On his vacation cottage at Wal-Lake, Mich., Van Nuys declined to make a formal statement on his return toward a reconciliation with the party, who last August virtually dropped him out of the party, ostensibly opposing President Roosevelt on the Supreme Court reform.

The statement, he said, will be saved until his arrival in Indianapolis.
He will be given out in concert with the Democratic chieftains at the annual session. This meeting, the statehouse was informed, will settle many delicate questions arising from the long estrangement of the senator and governor.

Following the peace-pipe conference will be Governor Townsend in company with Van Nuys; Dick Heller, the party's executive secretary; the McHale, national committeeman; N. Pursley, Fifth district congressman; and close Townsend advisors, M. Sinagoga, Fourth district congressman; State Chairman Stokes Jackson; Davidson, international president of the Waters and Chauffeurs union; McKinney and Reginald Sulvan, friends of Van Nuys; Elder, a Townsend advisor, and many several others.

Nothing is expected to settle the state convention problem.

No publicity was expected in arranging Van Nuys' nomination on the ballot since Townsend's organization controls an estimated 85 percent of the delegates, and two of the potential senatorial candidates withdrew when it became known that Townsend once more is officially arm in arm with Van Nuys.

Stokes Jackson, Fort Wayne lawyer who was the original state house choice a year ago but who was side-tracked due to organized labor's opposition, late yesterday issued a statement formally withdrawing his name, and announcing his support for Van Nuys and party har-

Gov. Henry F. Schricker, house choice until last week, felt a "deep obligation" to the present term. Since he has been reluctant to run in the Senate race, this was tantamount to a withdrawal.

At Jordan, the third announced candidate, declined to comment. But he is a labor leader and member of the state unemployment commission, it is unlikely that he will make a serious convention bid.
He made no campaign for delegates facing the harmony conferees with questions as:

How to reconcile Van Nuys' new Deal votes with a liberal Roosevelt 1938 platform.

"positive" votes for the New Deal

Spending Helps, NEC Will Advise

IS WAY TO RENEW "SPRING" OF PROSPERITY IN SOUTH

WASHINGTON, July 6. (UP)— The National Emergency Council will report to President Roosevelt that federal relief spending in the south is a means of renewing the "spring" of prosperity in that area, it was learned today.

This suggestion was contained in a report on southern unemployment and relief presented at a conference of a group of southern industrialists, business, labor and civic leaders, and educators with NEC director Lowell Mellett. The report, prepared by government economists, was said to have been approved by the conference and will be included in the survey of southern economic conditions to be presented to Mr. Roosevelt by Mellett in about a week.

"Federal funds flowing into the maintenance of the economy through relief programs constitute one way to renew these springs of southern prosperity," the report said. "With absentee ownership draining away the spending power of the south, federal funds expended to relieve distress, to provide some measure of security to persons disinherited by economic change in the south open up a vast market to the nation as a whole and so serve to right an unbalance in the national economy which has existed since the war between the states."

KOBE RAVAGED BY FLOOD WATERS; TOLL UNKNOWN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6. (UP)— The Globe Wireless Company said today it had received a wireless message from the S. S. President Cleveland at Kobe, Japan, that the business district of Kobe had been destroyed by flood waters with heavy casualties.

Defendant Is Held In Shooting Case

PAROLED CONVICT SHOT BY HARLAN CO. CONSPIRACY
DEFENDANT

HARLAN, Ky., July 6. (UP)— Lee Fleenor, 34, a defendant in the Harlan county mine conspiracy trial, was held today on a charge of having shot and seriously wounded Charles Reno, 40, paroled recently after having served four years in prison for the slaying of Fleenor's father.

Reno and Fleenor met last night at Molus, a mining community 14 miles west of Harlan. Fleenor told Sheriff C. C. Ball he had stopped at a store to buy some cigars.

"Reno jumped from behind a car and fired several shots at me," he said. "I returned the fire."

Sheriff Ball said witnesses had told him that Fleenor had fired at Reno "without warning."

Reno was shot in the abdomen, neck and shoulder. His condition was grave and little hope was held for his recovery.

He was found guilty on a charge of manslaughter in the slaying of Bird Fleenor, Lee's father, killed in 1933 only half a mile from the scene of last night's shooting. Reno was sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary.

Lee Fleenor was convicted in 1934 of having killed Deputy Sheriff Bige Gross in the Harlan courthouse. He was sentenced to serve 13 years in prison. He was pardoned five years ago by Gov. Ruby Laffoon.

Fleenor has not testified at the mine conspiracy trial. He is one of the former Harlan county deputies accused of having terrorized union men at the behest of mine owners.

F. D. R. LEADS NEW FIGHT IN 1938 CAMPAIGN

WILL PRESS SUPPORT OF RE-ORGANIZATION BILL
AGAIN

CONFERS WITH COMMITTEE

President Convinced That Nation Wants Program Previously Defeated

WASHINGTON, July 6. (UP)— President Roosevelt led the faithful today into another battle for enactment of a government reorganization bill which Congress rejected this year in a rebellion of House Democrats.

By a few words, uttered in his regular press conference, Mr. Roosevelt rammed the reorganization bill into the 1938 campaign close to the top of the list of issues which he is expected to present to voters on his trans-continental journey beginning July 7.

His plans were revealed after his conference yesterday with chairman Louis Brownlow and other members of the committee which, in January 1936, recommended to him the reorganization program which he immediately submitted to Congress.

Observers judged that Mr. Roosevelt's new insistence upon the bill disposed of any belief which may have gained currently that new deal bumps during the sessions of the 75th Congress would materially alter the general administration program. He revealed that he feels Congress must put the executive branch of government on what supporters of the bill call a business basis. And he intends to present to the people and to Congress again substantially the same reorganization proposals which were rejected by the House on April 8, although the President indicated that he would be agreeable to moderate compromise. He is convinced that the country wants a reorganization act.

This decision to press again and apparently immediately for the bitterly disputed legislation will have its first repercussions in primary campaigns where Democrats running as 100 per cent New Dealers unquestionably will espouse the legislation and attempt to force their more lukewarm opponents to take a position. It presumably is the administration expectation that sufficient pledges of support will be obtained among House nominees to insure a formally committed majority for the bill in the Congress which will assemble next January.

Some sort of referendum endoring the bill will be necessary to bring Roosevelt Congressional leaders to the fighting trenches again in good spirits. They were under heavy fire although the reorganization battle was obscured through 1936 by the more spectacular contest over reorganization of the Judiciary. It is not expected that Mr. Roosevelt will soon revive the Judiciary contest in which he was decisively defeated in the legislative field. He said in his post-Congress fireside chat that his major objectives had been won through the changed attitude of the Supreme Court toward new deal policies.

But reorganization of executive departments must be won in Congress if it is to be achieved at all.
The House in 1937 passed piece-meal reorganization legislation in two bills which provided:

1. Six $10,000 a year administrative assistants for the White House.
2. Creation of Cabinet-Rank welfare department.
3. Authorization for a period of two years for the re-grouping, reorganization and coordination of government agencies.

Fewer than 100 votes were cast against these House bills. But the Senate refused to consider them and, instead, enacted an omnibus bill including all of the foregoing and, additionally, for:

1. Making the planning national resources committee permanent.
2. Abolition of the general accounting office and the independent comptroller general's office, transferring their functions to the budget bureau which is controlled by the White House; establishment of an auditor general to be selected by Congress and to report to Congress on executive department expenditures after the money has been spent.
3. Substitution of a civil service commissioner for the civil service commission.

As expanded by the Senate the bill still fell short of Mr. Roosevelt's original proposals. Specifically exempted from reorganization or other interference by the Senate bill were such agencies: Board of Tax Appeals, Federal Reserve System, Army Engi-

Warren J. Yount Funeral Thursday

FORMER SUPT. OF SCHOOLS WILL BE BURIED AT OLD HOME IN FRANKLIN

The Bedford Daily Times in commenting on the death early Monday of Warren J. Yount, former superintendent of the Greencastle schools and since 1932, head of the Bedford school system, said in part:

Warren J. Yount, 51 years old, superintendent of Bedford city schools, died at 4:45 a. m. Tuesday at the Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis following an operation performed there Sunday morning for removal of a pyloric valve obstruction, the pyloric valve being the opening out of the stomach.

He had been in failing health for the past year, but until recently his condition did not justify serious concern. Sunday, June 26, a change in his condition for the worse prompted his local physician to recommend that he go to Indianapolis for examination at the hands of specialists, and adhering to this advice, he entered the hospital last Monday evening, June 27, for observation, his wife accompanying him to Indianapolis.

Failing to rally satisfactorily from the operation, physicians resorted to blood transfusions in an effort to build up resistance, a professional providing blood for a transfusion given about noon Sunday. He rallied briefly thereafter, but later suffered a relapse.

Funeral services have been arranged for 10:30 a. m. Thursday at the Day-Carter and Roach Elmwood Chapel with the Rev. George W.
Morris and Rev. John L. Prentice, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Immediately following the service the funeral party will accompany the remains to Franklin for burial in Green Lawn cemetery there.

The body will lie in state at the funeral home from this evening until the funeral hour. The casket will not be opened at the close of the service.

DELIVERS WAR STATEMENT ON ANNIVERSARY

GENERALISSIMO CHIANG KAI-SHEK OFFERS QUESTIONS TO JAPANESE

ARMY CRUEL, DESTRUCTIVE

Japs Start Three-Way Drive on Hankow as General Gives Humanity Plea

SHANGHAI, July 6. (UP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, in a statement addressed direct to the Japanese people on the eve of the first anniversary of the war, asked today:

"Do you know that your army has become the most barbarous and most cruel force for destruction in the world?"

"Think of the consequences if Chinese airplanes, visiting Japan; bombed Osaka and Tokyo as Japanese planes bombed Canton, instead of presenting you warm sympathy.

"Do you realize that your war costs have exceeded the cost of the Russian-Japanese war?"

"How many of your brothers, sons and nephews have become ghosts on the Asian continent?"

"How many young widows and orphans are there among you?"

"What have you profited from Manchukuo so far but higher taxes?"

As the generalissimo made the statement in Hankow, Japanese forces opened a three-way drive on the provisional capital, pushing up the Yangtze River, driving down from the north and branching out in a flanking movement designed to encircle the city.

Delegates Study Jewish Problem

32 NATIONS ARE REPRESENTED AT INTERNATIONAL
PARLEY

EVIAN, France, July 6. (UP)— Delegates of 32 nations gathered here on the Lake of Geneva today at the invitation of President Roosevelt to study one of the great humanitarian problems of these times, the sheltering of refugees from Germany and Austria.

It was forecast that before the conference ended the delegates would have gone thoroughly into the entire European refugee problem, involving millions of Jews and Christians who are unwanted in, or are political outcasts from, the countries in which they and their forefathers were born.

The plan which President Roosevelt proposed for the conference, called for the creation of a permanent organization which could act quickly to help victims of future political upheavals and racial discrimination.

Some delegates thought that the conference might establish a body which could offer immediate aid and comfort to fugitives from Spain, and for Jews fleeing before the rising tide of anti-semitism in eastern Europe.

Senator Henry Berenger of France, former ambassador to Washington, was delegated to open the conference and to call on Myron C.
Taylor, chief of the United States delegation, to make the opening speech.

POLICE SEARCH FOR JEWEL THIEVES OF MARSHALL FIELD

HUNTINGTON, N. Y., July 6. (UP)— Police swarmed over the 1,000-acre Marshall Field estate today, investigating the theft of $15,000 worth of jewelry that Mrs. Marshall Field, III, wrote to a party Saturday night, lay on her dressing table when she retired, and missed when she awoke Sunday noon.

The theft was revealed today by district attorney Fred J. Munden who said state police and the sheriff's office were aiding in the investigation.

Three articles of jewelry were taken, a bracelet, necklace and ring, all set with diamonds. The thief also got $900 from Field's wallet and $150 from the trousers of Frank Orway, a house guest.

Bill Taylor Takes Limelight In Meet

CAPTURES TWO FIRSTS IN YALE TRICENTENARY
TRACK MEET

Bill Taylor, former local boy, and now professor of mathematics at Hopkins Grammar School, captured the limelight in the Tricentenary track and field meet held at Yale Field, New Haven, Conn., recently.

Taylor, after a successful track career at DePauw, finished his schooling at Yale. The tricenentary was a part of the ambitious late spring sports program Yale sponsored as well as did several other eastern schools.

The following concerning Taylor's capture of honors appeared in a New Haven paper:

"By his victories in both the mile and the two mile, Taylor became the outstanding runner of the meet. This 25-year old Hopkins Grammar School mathematics instructor and track coach who came East after a brilliant track career at DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind., took the mile after a brilliant battle with Alan Waterman, Princeton senior who runs with the Harriers in the summer months.
The two stayed side by side most of the way but in the end Taylor pulled away to win by eight yards, in the time of 4:32.1.

"In the two mile Taylor had competition from Jack Reeves until the last lap, then pulled away to win by 75 yards. Incidentally these were the first races that Taylor has engaged in since he was graduated in 1936."

Star Disappears On Train Journey

ULA LOVE, 23, FEATURED PLAYER, MAY BE AM-
NESIA VICTIM

HOLLYWOOD, July 6. (UP)— Ula Love, movie actress, boarded a train in Memphis for Hollywood a week ago and never arrived here, her agent reported today. He expressed fear that she was "suffering from amnesia or was the victim of foul play.

Miss Love is 23 years old and a featured player. She finished her last picture, "Swiss Miss," with the comedians, Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, and made a visit to Memphis.
Her cousin there, Mrs. R. W. Arnett, accompanied her to the train June 27. She planned to return directly to Hollywood.

The actress' disappearance was reported by Henry Sucher, a representative of Milo Marchetti, her agent. Sucher had taken no steps to notify authorities but said he assumed the case had been reported to police in Memphis.

William Bolter, another representative of the agency who is in the middle west, talked with Miss Love by telephone from Royal Oak, Mich., on the day she left Memphis. He said she told of planning to return to Hollywood. A sister in Greenville, Miss., and other relatives that the actress might have gone to visit reported that they had not seen her.

RAINS BRING LAKE LEVELS TO NEW HIGH

WPA-BUILT LAKES SPREAD OVER ADDITIONAL ACRES OF LAND

LEVELS UP ON SPILLWAYS

Albin, Thomas Lakes, Recently Stopped, Show Promise to Meet Engineer's Hopes

Heavy rains the last week boosted the stock of Putnam county's new artificial lakes, sending water levels higher and inundating additional acres of land.

Two of the lakes—constructed with WPA funds, and just recently plugged—show indications of fulfilling engineer's expectations. Albin lake, just east of Greencastle on the old Big Four railroad right-of-way, has reached a water level approximately three feet from the lip of the spillway—a rise of several feet in the last week.

Thomas lake, also built along the old right-of-way in the extreme west portion of the county, rose several feet. The lake is located about a quarter of a mile north of the underpass of the Big Four, and about four miles east of Lena.

WPA engineers hope Thomas lake will cover 40 acres or more. Timber and brush have been removed to the proposed final water line. Water is just beginning to rise on the heavy stone spillway.

Both of these lakes are fed by streams and springs, according to Victor Walter, game warden. Construction officials have been faced with the difficulty of stopping minor leaks which have slowed flow of water into the basins. But time plus clay deposits are expected to plug large escapes of water.

Lena reservoir, although constructed with private funds and now controlled by a Terre Haute sporting club, offers an outstanding example of what may be built, engineers point out. Thomas lake is within three miles of the reservoir and bids fair to be as large as the now full lake.

WPA allotments to Putnam and Hendricks counties for construction of small dams for lakes total $167, 968, and relief administrators are working for quick approval of sites for work-relief purposes.

Hendricks county authorities are now working to construct a large lake just north of Danville, to be used as a combined park and Department of Conservation rear point, reports indicate. The city of Danville, according to preliminary plans, for a nominal outlay of less than $3,000, will have an ideal recreational site within easy distance of the town.

Tentative plans call for a WPA expenditure of approximately $75,000.
Work in Putnam county on the selection of possible sites for small lakes is making headway, Game Warden Victor Walter said today.

recklessly and without a license.

Her husband, who said "if she'd only kept out of the car like I told her to" the trouble wouldn't have occurred, put up $500 bail to keep her out of jail while attorneys appeal the case to a higher court.

Artificial Wool Being Made From Cow's Milk

Artificial wool fiber is now being made from cow's milk in Milan, Italy, by a new process so successful that it has been put on a commercial basis and more than 10 tons of wool are being turned out daily. The milk is treated by acid to precipitate the casein from which a fibrous mass is obtained. This is washed and spun into thread. The process is less costly than that required to produce natural wool and the product is claimed to be non-shrinkable and softer than sheep's fiber. CHILD CALLED WELL TRAINED IN ORPHANAGE

LANGHORNE, Pa. (UP)—The idea that orphans in impersonal orphanages should be pitied in comparison with those in private homes is erroneous, according to Dr. Charles A. Ford, chairman of the psychology department at Temple University.

Dr. Ford told the fourth annual conference here on the exceptional child, that an orphan in an institution has a better chance of keeping out of jail than one adopted by foster parents or sent to live with relatives.

"A good institution provides all that is necessary for good mental health," Dr. Ford said. "Certainly there is no lack of security. Competition, individuality, opportunity for leadership and for co-operation are provided for. Group contact certainly exists and similarity and diversity of interests can both be found."

Babs May Quit Social Career

LONDON GOSSIPS HAVE FIELD-DAY OVER REVENTLOW
DIVORCE

LONDON, July 6.—(UP)—Society people, gossiping over the police court siring of the marital troubles of Countess Barbara Hutton Haugwitz-Reventlow and her Danish husband turned their speculation today on the possibility that the Countess might abandon her social career here.

Amusement was expressed at the Countess' allegation through her lawyers in the drab setting of Bow Street Police Court that Count Haugwitz-Reventlow threatened to shoot her, an unnamed man—"like a dog"—and himself; that he demanded $5,000,000 as the price of a separation and that he held a mysterious letter which the Countess received from some unnamed person.

Some people suggested that the Countess might give up her home in London after the hearing of her charge against the Count which had its first session yesterday.

Gossips said that the Countess received one blow to her social career when the Duke of Windsor abdicated and left the country. She and the Count had commenced to frequent the Duke's social circle before his abdication. Photographers of the Haugwitz-Reventlows taken with the Duke and his American-born Duchess at Venice after the abdication were published widely.

There were very few fashionably dressed people in court yesterday, as contrasted to other trials in which wealthy or socially prominent people are principals.

Sheriff Allen Hennis said he readily confessed the slaying.

SPANISH LOYALIST FLEET REPORTED BOMBED FROM AIR

ROME, July 6.—(UP)—A special message to the newspaper Messagero from Zaragoza, Spain asserted today that the Spanish loyalist battle fleet had been "completely crippled" as the result of an airplane bombardment off Cartagena June 17.

According to the dispatch, Italian airplanes fighting with the Nationalists conducted the bombardment.

It was asserted that the cruisers Libertad and Miguel de Cervantes and the destroyer Admiralante Valdes were struck repeatedly and severely damaged.

The dispatch commented that little had been made known of the bombardment so far and that loyalist authorities at Barcelona threatened to shoot anyone who spread the news.

According to the dispatch, the cruiser Miguel de Cervantes, suffered worst. Its engines were disabled, the dispatch said, and the ship would be unable to navigate for four or five months. The Libertad, it was said, suffered a damaged prow.

As the loyalist battleship Jaime Primo was still under repair after an explosion months ago, the dispatch said, the whole republican fleet was now "paralyzed."

Messagers said that the airplanes which conducted the raid were from the Nationalist base at Majorca Island, in the Balearics.

KENNEDY TELLS BRITISH P. M. TRADE PLANS NEAR READY

LONDON, July 6.—(UP)—American Ambassador Joseph Kennedy told Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain that negotiations for a United States-Great Britain trade agreement are nearing completion at Washington and most likely will be conducted by the end of July. It was said in usually reliable quarters today.

Informants forecast that the agreement would be much more comprehensive than had seemed possible and it was reported, as an indication of the scope of the agreement, that Britain might receive substantial orders for merchant ships from the United States.

Kennedy saw Chamberlain yesterday at the House of Commons and it was understood they talked about the agreement.

The agreement is expected here to have considerable political effect but it was reported that Kennedy emphasized to Chamberlain that the negotiators were seeking an arrangement which for its strictly-business lines would commend itself to trade and industry in the United States and Britain.

Would Hypnotize Persons In Court

MAN HELD IN CONNECTION WITH DEATH MAKES SUGGESTION

HOLLYWOOD, July 6.—(UP)—Robert A. Gilbert, the hypnotist held in connection with the death of Mrs. Marie Colombos, suggested today that he be permitted to hypnotize persons in court—if and when he is brought to trial—to prove that he is harmless.

Gilbert, who a few weeks ago assisted a woman to a "post hypnotic" birth of a baby, was known in vaudeville circuits as "Gilbert the Great." More recently he had offered assistance to women expecting childbirth.

Mrs. Colombos, 23, died while Gilbert was visiting her. The hypnotist denied that his visit had any connection with Mrs. Colombos' death.

Coroner Frank Nance ordered that the woman's body be removed from a cemetery crypt for a second autopsy. Nance said he was not satisfied with the first autopsy, which failed to show a definite cause for the death.

Gilbert's suggestion of a hypnotic court session was made through his attorney, Charles H. Clark. The attorney added, however, that his client probably would never be brought to trial. He based his theory on the premises that Gilbert would be cleared completely when the cause of Mrs. Colombos' death was established.

Clark said that should Gilbert be charged and tried, he had retained Joe Shay, New York criminal attorney, as consultant, and was preparing to aid as a defense attorney. ed to bring a Hindu Yogi from De-

Man Jailed In Hatchet Killing

CHRIS SNOWDEN, 54, HELD, ON OPEN CHARGE; WPA WORKER SLAIN

NEWPORT, Ind., July 6.—(UP)—Chris Snowden, 54, was held on an open charge in the Vermillion county jail today while police questioned Elden Hayden and Thomas Poor in an attempt to learn the story of the hatchet-slaying of Sam Cypriak, 60 year old WPA worker.

Snowden has confessed to police that he killed Cypriak with a hatchet after a quarrel over a poker game. He dumped the body off the porch of his chancy into the little Vermillion river. He also told police that two other men in the game, Hayden and Poor, admitted to him they took Cypriak's $24 WPA paycheck before the quarrel.

Although police said Snowden admitted the slaying occurred early Sunday morning, Coroner Isaac D. White said Cypriak probably was killed Friday night.

Police dragged the body from the river a few feet from Cypriak's and Snowden's river shanties after Snowden directed them to the spot. When police went to Snowden's shack to question him concerning Cypriak's absence, they found him attempting
